

Lisa Russell, PHR With over 20 years of learning and talent development experience, Lisa nurtures talent by focusing on the unique contributions leaders can make to grow their teams and the organization. Lisa translates insights into meaningful outcomes by highlighting the intersection of learning, connection, and strategic thinking. After growing up in Columbiana County in northeast Ohio, Lisa established her family and career in the Columbus area. She has her master's degree in human resources from The Ohio State University and has demonstrated leadership abilities in progressive roles within internationally known organizations. Lisa brought her talents to Kane Learning: a boutique consulting firm with expertise in team effectiveness, people leadership, Human Resources, and communications. Kane Learning has Fortune 500 companies, small business, and non-profits on their client list, all of whom benefit from custom delivered solutions.